“Cybercrime Trends: Why I’d rather have a Root Canal than a ransomware attack”

- Business losses due to cybercrime are expected to top $1 trillion next year. Medical practices can be paralyzed for days or weeks by these attacks, with lasting damage to the patients and the practitioner. Ira Victor will share the critical actions you can take to secure your practice. Ira has spent 25 years in the field of digital forensics and information security. He is president of Discovery Technician in Reno and Las Vegas.
