"STUFF HAPPENS"

Our Guest Presenter:

Douglas D. Damm, DDS

Professor Emeritus of Oral & Maxillofacial Pathology

University of Kentucky, College of Dentistry

Currently practicing Histopathologic Oral and Maxillofacial Pathology

The presentation includes a diverse collection of injuries noted in the orofacial region secondary to a wide variety of causes. In many cases, the injuries are self-inflicted due to cosmetic alterations, oral hygiene interventions, and attempts at self-treatment. In addition, several dental iatrogenic injuries also are presented, many of which arose from inappropriate interventions.

If time permits, Foreign Body Gingivitis also will be included with a discussion of the similarities with gingival lichen planus and proliferative verrucous leukoplakia.
