Let’s Talk About Infection Control & OSHA 2020

~ Includes the NSBDE required Infection Control Course for Dentists, Hygienists & Dental Assistants

Course Description:
All clinical personnel in the dental setting are at risk for exposure to disease agents and other environmental hazards. With attention to infection control guidelines by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and OHSA regulations, risks to yourself, your patients, and other dental team members can be minimized. In this update, the scientific background behind infection control and safety regulations will be emphasized. Participants will be able to recognize strategies to break the chain of infection and prevent exposure to blood-borne pathogens and other infectious materials such as COVID-19 and antibiotic resistant microorganisms. This presentation will highlight updated information from the recent CDC publication, Summary of Infection Prevention Practices in Dental Settings review highlights from the Bloodborne Pathogens Standard.

At the conclusion of this course, attendees should be able to:
- Compare and contrast the roles of CDC, OSHA, and other agencies that impact the practice of dentistry
- List the Standard Precautions necessary to prevent infection transmission in the dental setting
- Explain the importance of a written office-specific infection control program
- Discuss the most current vaccination recommendations for dental personnel
- Identify recent emerging disease trends and list examples that may impact oral health care
- Recognize how antibiotic resistance occurs and explain initial steps to improve antibiotic prescribing in dentistry
- Describe the rationale and protocol for effective hand hygiene in the dental setting
- Review the selection of personal protective equipment to be worn for patient care and instrument processing
- Discuss precautions for dental personnel and patients during light curing procedures
- State policies and protocols for instrument processing and sterilization monitoring
- Discuss disinfectant selection and use in environmental surface asepsis
- Describe strategies to minimize contamination of dental unit waterlines
